

Streets for People

Construction of trial changes planned to start Monday 19 February

Work to create a safer and better-connected main street in Waipawa is on track to start on Monday 19 February.

The project includes speed reduction measures, improved walking connections, temporary traffic calming measures, and a temporary roundabout at the Ruataniwha Street intersection.

Recent important changes to the final designs in response to community and co-design group feedback include:

- night works to minimise disruption to motorists, with no planned daytime construction or detours.
- number of new trial pedestrian crossings reduced to two – one near Waipawa Butchery and one near the BP Station.
- improved access to Madge Hunter Park and Centennial Memorial Swimming Pool by way of a raised platform across SH2 to slow traffic.
- temporary roundabout at the intersection of Ruataniwha Street and SH2.
- removing plans for a cycleway through town in response to community feedback and safety concerns.

Together we thrive!

Join us for the first council meeting of 2024

You can tune in via Facebook live or watch via the TV screens in either of our libraries. At this meeting Council is being asked to endorse the direction for the Three-Year Plan Budget. This budget will be used to inform the topics and options that will be put to the community as Council consults on and develops its Three-Year Plan 2024-2027. Like most other councils around the country Central Hawke's Bay District Council is facing a challenging financial situation, which has been exacerbated by the cyclone. We have some important conversations ahead around proposed rates rises, cyclone recovery, roading, investment in our Three Waters work, capital projects and other issues of interest to our community.
